· The inner frame of the Tombstone Bag can be removed to provide helmet storage. Simply unzip the end of the bag opposite the Backrest Pad, reach inside and remove the frame.

· The Tombstone Bag also features a 2" and a 4" Backrest Pad. A taller rider may want to remove the sissy bar pad before mounting the bag allowing the bag to be mounted further back, increasing their comfort. Shorter riders would probably choose to leave the sissy bar pad installed and use the 4" Backrest Pad. Average height riders may choose to leave the sissy bar pad in place and use the 2" Backrest Pad. If you chose to run the Tombstone Bag without a Backrest Pad, you can remove the inner frame and insert the 2" pad in to the bag, slide it to the front of the bag and then replace the frame. We suggest trying different combinations until you find the one most suited for you. See FIG.2.

· Inside pockets are secured with Hook-and-Loop and can be removed if additional cargo space is needed. The inside pockets also serve as a hidden pocket. Since the Hook-and-Loop surrounds the perimeter of the pocket, you can pull apart one edge of the Hook-and-Loop, tuck your valuables inside and press the Hook-and-Loop back together. See PIC.2.
